America, Japan Sign Economic Reversion Pact

• The New York Times

Tokyo — Foreign Minister Kuchi Aichi Thursday affixed his signature, first in bold Chinese brush strokes and then in Western script to a historic agreement returning Okinawa to Japanese rule next year after a quarter century of American occupation.

While he signed, Aichi watched, through a pop-up television screen atop his table, U.S. Secretary of State William P. Rogers doing the same thing.

Millions of Japanese and American television viewers watched the ceremonies going on in their respective capitals on a live television hook-up via satellite relay.

'Birth Of New Era'

Premier Eisaku Sato, who was present at the signing ceremony, hailed the agreement as marking "the birth of a new era" of Japanese-American cooperation for the peace and prosperity of the Asian-Pacific regions.

Despite the premier's remarks, the agreement comes at a tense moment in U.S.-Japanese relations, caused not by Okinawa but by economic disputes, notably the textile issue.

Many Japanese feel that Americans resent their refusal to revalue the yen, or to limit textile exports to the United States through government-to-government talks. These Japanese fear that when the U.S. Senate discusses the agreement some members may try to link textiles with Okinawa and refuse to approve the agreement unless the Japanese government promises to reduce textile exports to the United States.

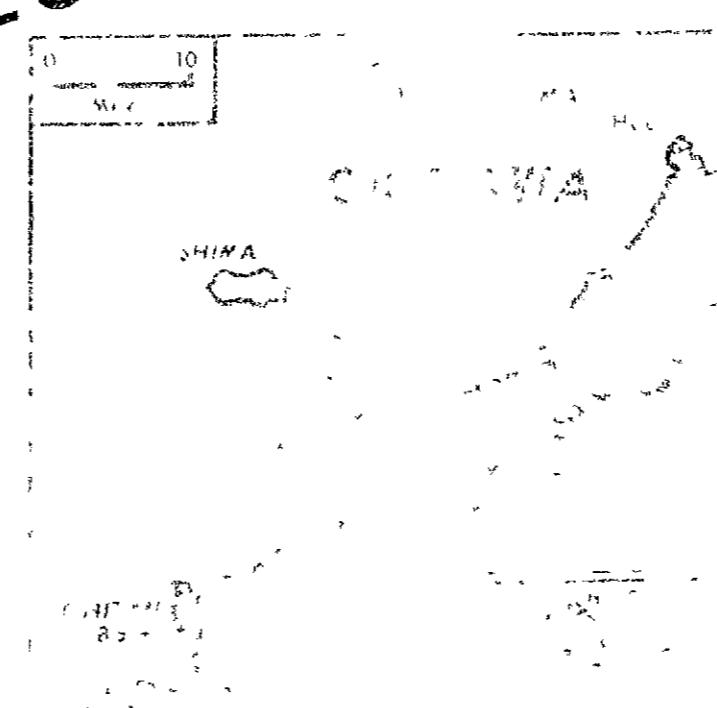

Nixon Absent

President Nixon did not personally appear along with Rogers at the signing ceremony in Washington, where protocol officials explained that the President had not attended the ceremony, despite its significance, because he is chief of state as well as head of the government, and thus equivalent in diplomatic rank to Japanese Emperor Hirohito.

The reversion agreement, formally known as "Agreement between the U.S.A. and Japan Concerning the Ryukyu Islands and the Daito Islands," implements the decision on reversion reached by Nixon and Sato in Washington in November, 1969. It requires ratification by the Senate and the Japanese Diet.

As the signing ceremony progressed in Sato's official residence, thousands of riot police, in helmets and carrying shields, guarded the residence and the government buildings surrounding it from radical leftist student and young worker groups trying to make good their threat to cause so much trouble that the government would be unable to sign the agreement.

porary dislocation of railway schedules on commuter lines, and injured 26 policemen by hurling a homemade bomb crammed with glass and metal fragments into the policemen's ranks. They claim that American administrative withdrawal is meaningless so long as U.S. military bases remain on Okinawa.

The agreement is made up of a preamble and nine articles.

They provide that the United States will relinquish in favor of Japan all rights over the Ryukyu and Daito, which it gained at the San Francisco peace treaty of 1951, that Japan will offer the United States the use of most of the existing military facilities on the island, that Japan will pay the United States $320 million over five years as compensation for U.S.-owned civil assets on Okinawa, plus increased labor costs, and that Japan will permit a Voice of America relay station on Okinawa for five more years.

agreements indirect language on this point is due solely to the fact that American officials are prohibited by law from making any mention of the presence or nonpresence of nuclear weapons anywhere in the world.

News Summary

Times Gives Government List Of Documents

(c) New York Times News Service

New York — Court action to require the New York Times to turn over to the government before Friday the secret Pentagon study from which the newspaper's Vietnam series was written failed Thursday, but the Times gave the Justice Department a list of the portions of the 47-volume study in the newspaper's possession. (More on Page 2.)

Kennedy Urges Disclosure

Washington — Protests mounted in Congress over the administration's attempt to suppress the Times's series on Vietnam policy. Sen. Edward M. Kennedy called for full disclosure

House Rejects Deadline

Washington — The House, in its first direct vote on the Vietnam war issue, refused by a vote of 256 to 158 to impose a deadline for withdrawal of American troops from Vietnam. (More on Page 9.)

Nixon Sees Drug Emergency

Washington — President Nixon declared that drug abuse had "assumed the dimensions of a national emergency" and asked Congress for $155 million for a campaign of rehabilitation, research, education, enforcement and international controls. (More on Page 15.)

Majority Promised Anonymity

New York — Former government officials said the majority of the approximately 36 authors of the narrative-analysis sections of the Pentagon study were career military and civilian officials who were promised anonymity to enable them to make candid judgments.

Venezuela Plans Oil Control

New York — Venezuela was reported to be planning to place all foreign oil companies under effective government control until 1983 and then to nationalize them without compensation. A bill accomplishing those ends was said to have no significant opposition in the Venezuelan congress.

Integration Increases In South

Washington — Survey information released by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare showed that public school integration has increased dramatically in the South during the last two years but has declined significantly in most of the large northern cities. The percentage of black students attending majority white schools increased from 23% to 33% nationwide during the period.

Mack Trucks In Russian Deal

New York — Mack Trucks, Inc., was said to have agreed to design and supply equipment for a major part of a new truck plant in the Soviet Union. The deal hinges on White House approval. (More on Page 6.)

Okinawa Treaty Signed

Washington — Japan and the United States signed a treaty simultaneously in Tokyo and Washington restoring Okinawa to Japanese sovereignty at some unspecified date next year. (More on Page 1.)

Times Gives U.S. Document List

New York (P) — The New York Times voluntarily turned over to the government Thursday a list of secret Pentagon documents upon which the newspaper based its interrupted series on origins of the Vietnam war.

The U.S. attorney's office acknowledged in early evening that it had received the list.

Federal Judge Murray Gurfein had urged the Times to cooperate voluntarily. Meanwhile, he had shelved the government's motion to examine the newspaper's file of any data relating to the Pentagon study.

He warned, however: "I'm not tolerating any fishing expedition into the files of any newspaper."

At the most Gurfein assured the Times, he would order the paper to make available for inspection only documents mentioned in the government's original suit, which earlier this week halted publication of the Times series.

47 Volumes, Summary

The documents mentioned were a 47-volume secret Pentagon study covering the period 1945-1967 and entitled, "History of U.S. Decision-Making Process on Vietnam Policy," and a summary of "The Command and Control Study of the Tonkin Gulf Incident."

The Times had expressed concern lest Gurfein allow the government full access to its files on the series, thereby possibly uncovering the identity of the source from whom the newspaper obtained the Pentagon documents.

Near 30,000 Spectators Watch Colorful Parade

... At Annual Nebraskaland Days Event

BY DEAN TERRILL

Southeast Nebraska Bureau
North Platte — Seemingly every cowboy hat in Nebraska was doffed here Thursday to the old showman of the West, Buffalo Bill Cody.

The annual Nebraskaland Days parade, 162 units strong and billed as the state's largest, attracted entries from every corner. A western garbed throng of at least 30,000 was on hand for the biggest day of the week-long blowout.

Colorful Indians, scores of horsemen and floats from numerous towns made for a show that would have set Old Bill's goatie to twitching. Marching bands alone numbered 20, led by Wilber's award winning group from last year.

Gov. J. James Exon and family made the scene on a stagecoach, one of at least a dozen, which plodded the two-mile route. Named parade marshal, Buffalo Bill Award winner Slim Pickens chose a saddle for his appearance rather than a prepared float.

Queens galore, paced by newly crowned Jackie Berniklau of Maxwell, added beauty along with the meticulously decorated floats. A standout of the latter was a giant flying pheasant, its gorgeous plumage provided by the State Game and Parks Commission.

Live Buffalo

Another eyecatcher was a live buffalo led by Herman Camin of Oconto. Other entries ranged from motorcycling Shriners to covered wagons to oldtime fiddlers.

Patrol Officials To Evaluate Equipment For Breath Test

A State Patrol official said Thursday equipment would soon be evaluated for use in enforcing Nebraska's new drunk driving law, which goes into effect in August.

The law was passed by the 1971 Legislature and is claimed by its sponsor, Sen. John DeCamp of Neligh, to be one of the "toughest" in the nation.

However, Assistant Patrol Superintendent Lt. Col. C. P. Karthausen said the Patrol would have to make the equipment evaluation before the law could be enforced.

"There are at least 10 different kinds of equipment

Sugar Plant Given Notice On Pollution

Washington (UPI) — The Environmental Protection Agency has notified the Holly Sugar Corp. of Torrington, Wyo., it has 180 days to halt alleged pollution of the North Platte River.

EPA Administrator William D. Ruckelshaus said the sugar beet processing firm had complied with recommendations of a federal-state enforcement conference first convened in 1961, but that was before establishment of federal water quality standards.

He said the firm's processing wastes discharged into the river result in bacterial pollution higher than permitted by Nebraska, nine miles downstream.

Wheat Division Marketing Post Goes To Rexroth

Roland J. Rexroth of Sidney has been named as marketing specialist for the wheat division of the Nebraska Department of Agriculture at Lincoln.

Glenn Kreuscher, director of agriculture, said Rexroth began work with the division the second week in June.

"To help develop projects for the improvement of wheat production and to expand marketing and utilization of Nebraska wheat will be his duties," Kreuscher continued. "Rexroth will work closely with and serve as assistant chief to the chief of the division, Marx Kochke."

"Rexroth is well qualified for this position being reared on a Nebraska wheat farm in the Sidney area and having graduated this month from the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture where he majored in agricultural economics," said Kreuscher.

Rexroth is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Rexroth of Sidney.

18-Vote Endorsed

Madison, Wis. (UPI) — Wisconsin's legislature endorsed 18-year-old voting, increasing to 34 the number of states to ratify the proposed federal constitutional change.

Pickens, who made friends from the moment he blew into town, was given the seventh annual Buffalo Bill Award Thursday night by Gov. Exon. The presentation highlighted the opening of the four-night rodeo.

Using a drawl picked up in many years of rodeoing the California native insisted he is better in the arena than on the screen.

"I've been accused of being an actor, but so far nobody's ever proved it," he quipped.

The gawking honoree "used to be 6'3" but I'm settling" showed off his knowledge of western lore as he strolled the grounds of Scouts Rest Ranch. It was there that Cody headquartered his wildwest show which is the granddaddy of Nebraskaland Days.

Pickens told Supt. George LeRoy that he acquired his stage name by secretly entering a rodeo when his father disapproved.

"The guy who signed me up suggested Slim Pickens for a name cause he said that's just what rodeoing would be," said the affable star.

Screen Test Later

Starting at age 16 as a bronc and bull rider, Slim turned to rodeo clowning before Warner Brothers surprised him with a screen test 21 years ago. He combined the careers until hitting the bigtime in such varied movies as "Stagecoach" and "Dr. Strangelove." He just completed "The Honkers" which casts him as a rodeo clown. Between pictures he fishes and hunts with such cronies as Andy Devine, another Buffalo Bill award recipient.

Pickens and Gov. Exon shared the spotlight at a noon luncheon which is another annual highlight of the celebration. Pickens spoke briefly, commenting on Nebraska's friendliness.

North Platte Mayor Robert Phares presented the honoree a hospitality plaque and made him an honorary colonel in the Cody Scouts. Among other gifts was a number 1 pigskin football given by Queen Diane Hindley of Herman, representing the Nebraska Pork Producers and Porkettes.

Gunman Takes Jewelry Valued At Over $11,000

Omaha (UPI) — Mrs. Denis J. O'Keefe Jr. was robbed of three pieces of jewelry valued at more than $11,000 by a masked gunman at her west Omaha home Wednesday, police reported.

Mrs. O'Keefe told detectives she was walking to her front door when a man placed a gun at her neck and ordered her into the house.

She said the man tied her up in a bedroom and took three pieces of jewelry from a jewelry box, then drove away in her car.

Mrs. O'Keefe's husband is executive vice president of O'Keefe Elevator Co. Inc. of Omaha

Curtis Finds No Fault With Times

Washington (UPI) — Sen. Carl T. Curtis, R-Neb., told the Senate Thursday he found no fault with the New York Times for publishing the Vietnam War documents, saying that freedom of the press to publish information about the government and the decisions of government officials, "is one of the our most precious freedoms."

"But I do find very serious fault with the information classification and document security occurred within our security system of our country," Curtis said, adding the government tends to stamp secret or top secret on too many documents in an attempt to hide information from the public.

He also said that if the documents published by the Times are as highly classified as the attorney general has indicated in his suit against the paper, "a wanton breach of security occurred within our government at the end of the previous administration when copies of these documents were allowed to leave government premises, apparently on a permanent basis."

Curtis said that when a document is top secret, the American people have a right to expect it will be kept locked up on government premises except when an individual is given temporary custody for a specific duty.

He said steps should be taken immediately to tighten security practices and suggested a freedom of information committee, including prominent representatives of the news media, to be set up "to determine whether there is too much classification of information in the government to keep it away from the American people."

Msgr. Egging, Longtime GI Diocese School Head, Dies

Sidney (UPI) — The Rt. Rev. Msgr. A. E. Egging, superintendent of schools for the Grand Island Diocese of the Roman Catholic Church for a quarter of a century, died Thursday at the home of his mother, Mrs. Mary Egging of Sidney. He was 59.

A funeral mass will be celebrated at 11 a.m. Saturday at St. Patrick's Church in Sidney. Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. Sunday at Blessed Sacrament Church in Grand Island. A funeral mass will be celebrated at 10:30 a.m. Monday at Blessed Sacrament Church in Grand Island, with burial to follow in West Lawn Cemetery in Grand Island.

Msgr. Egging was born at Gurley, received his seminary instruction at St. John's Seminary in Little Rock, Ark., and was ordained a priest on May 22, 1937.

His first appointment in the Grand Island Diocese was as an assistant at Holy Rosary Church in Alliance. While there he became the third largest parish in the diocese.

He earned his master's degree in education at the University of Nebraska.

Msgr. Egging later served at St. Patrick's Parish in Sidney and at the Immaculate Conception Parish in Rushville.

In 1959, he was named founding pastor of the Blessed Sacrament Parish in Grand Island. He held the post until last April, when he resigned because of ill health. While in charge of the parish it grew from a membership of 181 families to nearly 1,000 families, becoming the third largest parish in the diocese.

Raleigh, N.C. (UPI) — Seventeen Democratic governors will gather in Omaha, Neb., Friday to discuss plans for seeking a stronger voice in Democratic party affairs.

North Carolina Gov. Bob Scott, chairman of the Democratic Governors' Caucus, said the governors will select a man to represent them in party affairs looking toward the 1972 elections.

Scott said the permanent representative will have an office at the Democratic national headquarters in Washington.

Governors are expected from Florida, Georgia, Maine, Maryland, Montana, Minnesota, Nebraska, New Mexico, Ohio, North Carolina, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Carolina, South Dakota, Texas and Wisconsin.

Scott said three other states are expected to send representatives.

To Tour Farm

Scott plans to fly to Omaha Friday afternoon. Nebraska Gov. J. James Exon has planned a tour of a large farm near Omaha. While there the group will discuss food production problems.

Milford Approves Lease Contract Plan With NPPD

Columbus — Voters in Milford have overwhelmingly given their approval to a lease agreement with the Nebraska Public Power District (NPPD).

By a 209 to 72 vote, Milford residents concurred with an earlier unanimous decision by the City Council to lease the city's electrical distribution system to NPPD. Milford previously had operated its own system and had purchased power on a wholesale basis from NPPD.

Under terms of the agreement, Milford will continue to own its system and NPPD will operate the system and make annual lease payments and others in lieu of tax payments.

To date, some 210 Nebraska cities and communities have signed lease agreements with NPPD.

Demo Governors Want Stronger Party Voice

... Group Will Gather In Omaha

Saturday at 9 a.m. Scott said there will be reports on revenue sharing and welfare proposals pending in Congress. Each governor will have an opportunity to present an assessment of the strength of the Democratic party in his state.

Scott said two news conferences are planned Saturday to report on the caucus developments.

Rail Crossing Crash Victims Are Identified

Winslow (UPI) — The three persons killed Wednesday night in the collision of their car and a Burlington Northern freight train near here were identified Thursday.

Dodge County Attorney Gordon Gobel, acting as county coroner, said the victims were Delores Pota, 42, Fremont; her daughter, Linda Pota, 13, Fremont; and Glenn D. McKenzie, 47, Fremont. Gobel said the car was driven by McKenzie.

The State Patrol said the car was northbound on U.S. 77 when it collided with the eastbound train at a crossing on the edge of Winslow.

The engineer of the freight train was identified as Harry R. Howard of Sioux City, Iowa.

The crash near Winslow was the second triple fatality on Nebraska roadways in the past two days. Three persons died Tuesday in a fiery two-car crash near Yankton, S.D.

Mack Trucks Signs $700 Million Deal With Russians

New York — Business Week magazine said Thursday the Soviet Union and Mack Trucks Inc. have signed a $700 million preliminary agreement for the U.S. company to supply machinery and technology for a huge Russian truck manufacturing plant.

The agreement is subject to approval by the U.S. government.

It was signed by Zenon C. R. Hansen, chairman and president of Mack Trucks, and N. D. Komarov, Russian deputy foreign trade minister May 18 at the company's Allentown, Pa., headquarters, the magazine said.

Hansen commented in a telephone interview on the Business Week article said he would describe the result of a skyrocketing effect on U.S.-

U.S. exports to Russia amounted to only $18 million in 1970.

He's Optimistic

Hansen said that with the changing attitudes on East-West trade, he was optimistic about the prospect of government approval.

Business Week said the proposed deal could have a eventual 300,000 people

Up To $1 Billion

The plant may require an estimated $1 billion worth of machinery and technology before it is completed, the magazine said.

In Washington U.S. government officials declined on-the-record comment on the reported Mack deal.

It was understood that Soviet trade representatives also have been talking to some other auto firms about possible purchases for the big truck factories project. The German Daimler-Benz and French Renault companies were said to have been approached.

Whether the U.S. government would approve a Mack application to supply the machinery and technicians to the Soviets was unknown.

Commerce Department officials said no export license has been granted for the proposed sale. The usual process, once an application has been received from a U.S. firm for a specific export license, is for an interagency federal board to weigh the application to see whether it should be approved or denied.

Mack had worldwide sales totaling $534 million in 1970. It is a subsidiary of the Signal Cos. Inc., of Los Angeles, which engages in oil and gas production and the manufacture of components for aircraft, missiles and spacecraft.

Federal Judge Clears Way For Magee, Davis Hearings

San Francisco (UPI) — A federal judge Thursday cleared the way for further court proceedings in Marin County's case against Angela Davis and Rachell Magee.

U.S. District Judge Samuel Conti denied civil rights petitions from Magee, a San Quentin convict accused of murder in last year's courthouse shootout, and remanded the case back to Superior Court in San Rafael.

Magee's petitions sought to have the trial transferred to the federal courts on grounds his civil rights were violated in the state court.

On March 31 Conti accused Magee of "abusing the processes of this court" by filing numerous petitions. He tightened restrictions on the convict's right to block the Superior Court action.

The federal judge had said Magee could no longer file petitions as a pauper. But in his latest decision he said the convict could take his appeals to a higher court "without fee."

On Tuesday Arnason refused to permit Miss Davis, a one-time UCLA philosophy instructor and admitted Communist, to be freed on bail. He went against a recommendation from the probation department.

Interest In Drug Program Expressed At Budget Session

By TOM EKVALL
Star Staff Writer

Interest in providing funds to combat the drug problem in Lincoln was expressed Thursday at a budget session involving city and county elected officials.

The officials took no action on budgets funded partly by the city and county.

City councilwoman Mrs. Helen Bousalis said she feels someone has to take the lead in the drug problem.

She urged there be some central coordinating agency to look into the situation equipped with some funds, hopefully federal money.

Mrs. Bousalis asked whether the health department might be this agency.

Health Director Dr. George Underwood said he did not feel his department was the place. He said there is $375 in its budget for drug education.

Not Similar. The drug situation he said is not a communicable disease problem like venereal disease.

The health director proposed in the budget setting up a venereal disease clinic open one day a week to handle what he called the explosion in A.D.

The number of A.D. cases in Lincoln is twice as many as in 1969.

A.D. Gone Wild. The situation has gone wild in asking for $168 to hire a doctor to diagnose and treat cases for the year.

Underwood said that the money would only be spent if his department would receive state money to cover the cost.

He said his department is not set up for treatment of drug cases, and added that no heroin addict problem exists in Lincoln.

Underwood said he would explore the suggestion of Mrs. Bousalis and others to look into the possibility of federal aid.

$190,710 Proposed. The elected officials reviewed with Underwood a proposed $190,710 budget for the health department up $44,136 from the present fiscal year.

"Good Reaction." He said the program is going fast enough to get some pretty good reaction in support of the pollution control measures necessary.

He said the program is going fast enough to get some pretty good reaction in support of the pollution control measures necessary.

Planning Director Doug

Broden proposed to the group a budget of $212,838 as compared to that of $169,017 for the present fiscal year, which ends Aug. 31.

Broden proposed hiring an additional relocation officer. He also requested $9,290 to undertake a housing survey of the city and county.

Survey Backed. The survey is necessary if the city and other governmental agencies are to be more effective in the housing area, the planning director said.

Council Chairman Dick Hartsock questioned whether a second relocation person could be kept sufficiently busy.

Broden replied in the affirmative.

He said that with the present civil supply of housing

Gerald Henderson, the only employee now involved in relocation, is spending much more time trying to find a decent place to relocate families at a price they can afford.

The majority of funds comes from federal aid.

Sanger said that the program once extended to the incorporated villages in the county would qualify for a ratio of three federal dollars to one local dollar as compared to the 2 to 1 ratio if they are not included.

"Good Reaction."

He said the program is going fast enough to get some pretty good reaction in support of the pollution control measures necessary.

Planning Director Doug

Henderson also works in the human rights area, adding that Human Rights Commission is interested in more staff time.

Works Nights.

Broden said Henderson spends most of his time in the area of relocation and often works nights.

Councilman Bob Sikta asked whether the budget allowed staff time to work on revising the zoning ordinance. Sikta said he feels the zoning ordinance needs immediate attention.

Broden said possible revisions could be made with the present staff.

The officials also reviewed with Casper Skinner, a proposed $40,988 budget for civil defense operations, up $2,857. The budget would require the city and county each to contribute $14,190, the balance to come from federal funds.

Musical 'Hair' Out For Omaha

Omaha (UPI) — The rock musical "Hair" apparently will be the longest tall production to obtain booking agent D. K. Walker.

Casino owner manager Charles McNease said Tuesday a committee of city officials decided not to allow the musical in the Music Hall.

McNease said he and other officials discussed whether a municipal liability should be used for a controversial production.

We thought it would be in the best interest of the city not to bring "Hair" in," he said.

"In this what we're talking about here is just plain censorship," Walker said.

Emergency Services Plan Told

By United Press International
A state official says a program has been launched to encourage Nebraska counties to band together in an attempt to provide better civil defense services.

Harold Pickering, state civil defense coordinator, said the program resulted from a need to make more "effective and efficient" use of facilities in case of a disaster.

Under the terms of the program, several counties would join forces and appoint a council of representatives, which in turn would hire a full-time disaster planning coordinator.

At present, only about eight of the 92 counties have full-time officers, he noted.

Initially, Pickering said, the multi-county agency would provide a "move up and cover" concept in fire department coverage and in law enforcement.

Eventually other things such as emergency medical care would be included, he said.

That way, he said, one area would be able to call on services from another county when needed by simply getting in touch with the regional coordinator.

Pickering said areas now considering the move include Hastings, Broken Bow, Sidney, North Platte and Ongalla.

ASTROLOGICAL FORECAST

By SIDNEY OMARR

Forecast For Friday
More colorfully each day are becoming more interested in astrology. Those born under Capricorn and Aquarius are in the vanguard. Aries individuals, though skeptical, have been gradually won over by the bandwagon and lead the way. Bette Davis proves this point. Two of astrology's greatest friends are Capricorn, Henry Miller and Marlene Dietrich.

ARIES (March 2-April 19) Avoid self-deceit concerning finances, personal possessions. Get budgetary affairs in order. Present individual exhibits tendency to show freely. Make sure it's not your money.

TAURUS (April 20-May 19) Lunar cycle is high, coincides with time when your ambitions are at their peak. Be a team player. Take in a tinge. One in a horoscope will lend needed support.

GEMINI (May 20-June 20) Enter rather than leave home. Out in full from the message. Discard the superficial. Look behind scenes for vital answers. Concentrate on overall view. Study potential.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Desires can be fulfilled through original approach.

BREAK with tradition appears to be a necessity. Under house success can from time to time be constructive. Maintain open mind.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) You are making more progress than might be imagined. Your horoscope is well on the way. You overcome petry jealousy. Best to leave old stories.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Accept social invites. You are more sociable than usual.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) Feelings you thought had been suppressed surge to forefront. Don't attempt to battle natural instincts. Give full play to creative resources. You are more resourceful.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21) Let low.

When I woke in the morning, the streets were wet with night rain. The maid bustled in and she said: "It's terrible weather we're having." The window looks over leafy St. Stephen's Green — Where they blown-up the statue of King George," the maid said.

She said "wasn't it a pity now in Belfast with bombing and all?" She said I should go to the country. "And there's a fine abbey there was ruined in the wars."

Only you find she's not talking about a recent war. But about King William's War. (Which is still setting off today's bombs in northern Ireland.)

Or she's talking about the Rising of '98. Or the time when Cromwell put all Irishmen west of the Shannon on pain of death.

Ireland stayed clear of the World War. But it preserves past slaughters with intensity.

Good morning
A young man from Lincoln, who is very adept in a specialized field of the fine arts, is on his way to the East Coast this week. "I am pampered in Lincoln," he said. "There is no solid competition or criticism here. Everything I do, people like. I am no longer sure if it is my work or my name that deems the recognition Lincoln offers a very boring and hypocritical artistic atmosphere."

However true the young man's accusation might be, it does pose a valid question. Can a community encourage so much that it is on the point of suffocating?

It seems as though creative endeavors do need inspiration and fostering from the community. But, at the same time, the fine artist needs critical discrimination that offers him a solid voice that neither compromises or pampers. Communities like Lincoln have yet to learn to differentiate between the two extremes, and present a voice that reflects artistic judgement rather than hypocritical pampering.

Please join us
THE PRIME OF MISS JEAN BRODIE. The newly-formed Lincoln Community Playhouse Youth Guild will open tryouts for their first production, "The Prime of Miss Jean Brodie." Auditions will be held the evenings of June 21, 22, and 23, from 7 o'clock to 10 o'clock at the Playhouse. The cast calls for 16 female roles and 6 male roles, ranging in years from 13 to 50. Performance dates are August 5, 6, and 7.

A FUNNY BEGINNING . . . or how the first clown started, is the theme of "The Adventures of Harlequin" by William Glennon. This production by the Lincoln Community Playhouse Children's Theatre will begin on Friday evening, June 25, at 7:30 o'clock. Other performances are scheduled for June 26 at 2 o'clock, and June 27 at 2 o'clock and 7:30 o'clock. Italy, with its 16th century strolling players and minnes, sets the stage for the play.

POPCORN & PEANUT SHELLS . . . are just part of what will put you in the mood for the Mellerdrammers at the Gas Light Theatre each evening. You'll want to save some of your popcorn to throw at the two villains when the next production, "Love Rides The Rails" or "Will The Mail Train Run Tonight," which will open on Wednesday, June 23. A sneak preview will be shown on Woman's World, Channel 10, on the morning of June 23 at 9:30 o'clock. Mellerdrammers showtime is 9 o'clock every night.

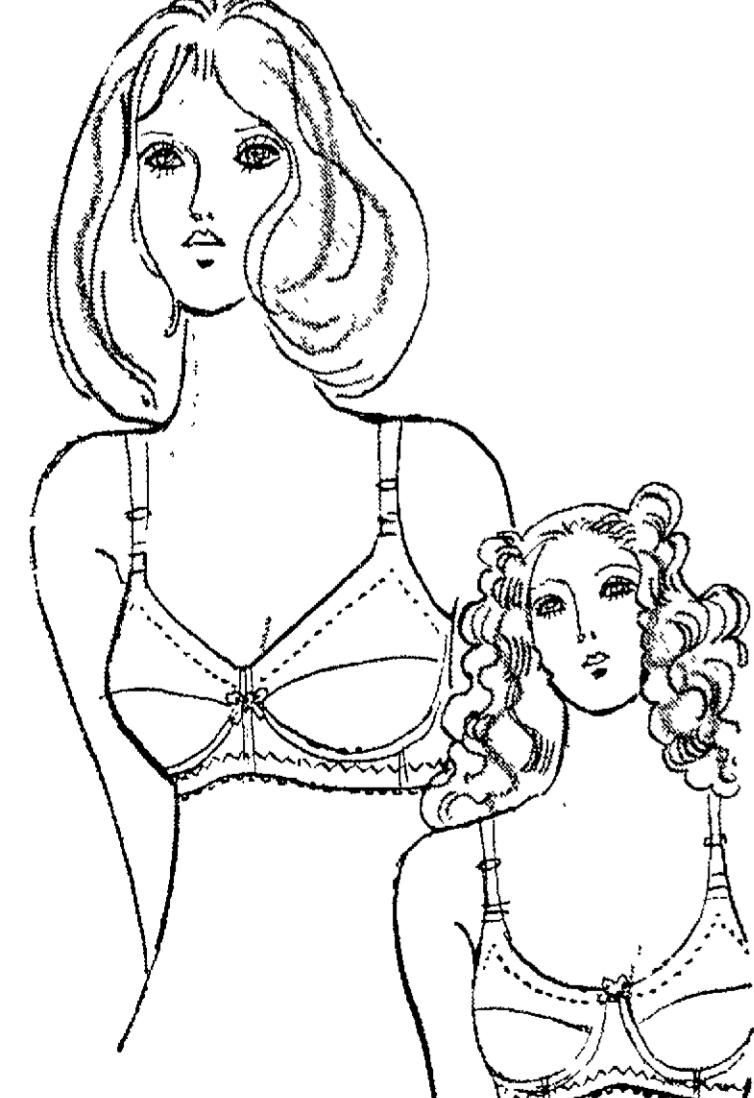

CURTAIN CALL . . . PHOTOGRAPHS . . . by California Edmund Teske are now on exhibit in the Prince Room of the Sheldon Art Gallery. The Sidney Buchanan Exhibit of sculpture is also on exhibit till June 20.

Although the summer season usually sees a decreased amount of activities on the part of Lincoln's clubs, the month of June has been, and, from all indications, will continue to be, a busy one for a number of organizations.

The festivities will begin at 10:30 o'clock with a coffee which will precede the dedication.

A six-session creative art class for girls between the ages of nine and 12 will begin Monday, June 21, at the Central YMCA, 1432 N St. The classes, which will be taught by Mrs. Leslie F. Blumer, will meet between the hours of 9:30 and 11 o'clock on Monday and Wednesday mornings, with the exception of Monday, July 5. Those interested in participating should register by telephoning the YMCA, 432-2802.

Embroidery Lavishes Accessorama Show

By NELLE GREER

New York — The first chapter of Thursday's fashion story, one which has been unfolding this week by the New York Couture Council — opened bright and early in the morning at the St. Regis Roof, and it was entitled "Accessorama." That title dispelled any thoughts of gowns, suits, coats and any other piece of wearing apparel that one expects to see at a fashion show.

Accessorama had a sparkle which wasn't limited to Stanley Hager's jewelry section at the Rolf and Uniroyal department. Everything was just a little different than average — due, perhaps to the fact that artisans had been at work.

For women who like the feel of embroidery hoops and needles the display of the Embroidery Manufacturers' Promotion Board would have been sheer ecstasy. There were embroidered belts, embroidered bags, boots and baubles. The stocking boot was covered with embroidery from its two-inch heel to its top which would almost reach the knee. There was something new also, in a stocking boot — this one was a natural linen tone, lavishly embroidered in pastel shades. And, for anyone who wants to be unusual — try embroidering leather, denim or corduroy. If there is a teenager in the family put embroidered appliques reflecting ecology on his — or her — blue jeans or denim pants. These could be flowers, apples, carrots, birds, stars — even whales or white elephants — and they really are cute.

Foot Long Earring

You could spend hours looking at Stanley Hager's jewelry. Stanley Hager is an award-winning jewelry designer, and his new creations prove his talent. There were earrings no one could believe — some of them were a foot-long and composed of strings of minute pearls, fine gold chains and a jewel here and there. Others, not quite so long, were of wood. Some were of rosewood in mat black, others in the brown or natural wood grain. But Hager also had the button earrings, some large, some small, and there were rings in every conceivable shape. There were plain ones, jeweled ones, large one and small ones. Hager provided the perfect way for a lady to carry her 'mad' money. It was a very small, gold mesh purse attached to a long gold chain. And, if anyone should have that Cleopatra-ist feeling when she goes to her next very formal party, Hager has the answer — a lucite and rhinestone upper arm bracelet.

And now back to the New York Hilton and the show presented by the Wool Bureau.

Scoped Tubby

Then, across the room to see how things were in the Polan Katz section. They were in great shape — for umbrellas, that is. One thing for certain, the Katz line of umbrellas will shake everyone out of a rut. The shapes for 1971 are a far cry from the past. Some of them are square, and you can have one with or without the Victorian fringe. There is one called the 'scooped Tubby' which is decorated in the carnival dot print. But the one eyecatching umbrella was the new deep bell dome. It really was a dome which does more than just cover the top of the head — the bell shape, slightly reminiscent of the old English umbrellas, keeps you dry clear down to the shoulders.

From time to time almost everybody has a luggage problem whether the traveling is to be done by plane, train, boat or car. The Airways Industries, for example, has introduced Uniroyal's new, two-tone texture called Naugahyde in its line of casual luggage for men and women — and Rolf's "Gift-O-Rama" also includes Uniroyal's personnel travel accessories. Naugahyde — for luggage, is a vinyl coated fabric, and Naugathane, a vinyl coated fabric, is used for the accessories.

There were some wee models and huge stuffed animals in the department of the show that was devoted to sleepwear for the small fry. There were little rompers, two-piece 'footies' for little girls and boys, and long gowns and pajamas, decked with lace and smocking.

Wonder Wool

It was a little disconcerting to find the stage lined with Whirlpool washers and dryers as an accompaniment to a style show. But there was a reason — the Wool Bureau was introducing its new wonder wool which actually is soft, silky wool jersey, and the laundry equipment was there to prove that the soft, silky wool jersey could be tossed into the machine, the dryer, and come out looking like new. As a matter of fact, some of the outer layers of clothes the first three models were wearing were taken off their backs and put in the machine. Not too much later out they came — and voila! End of the washing machine segment.

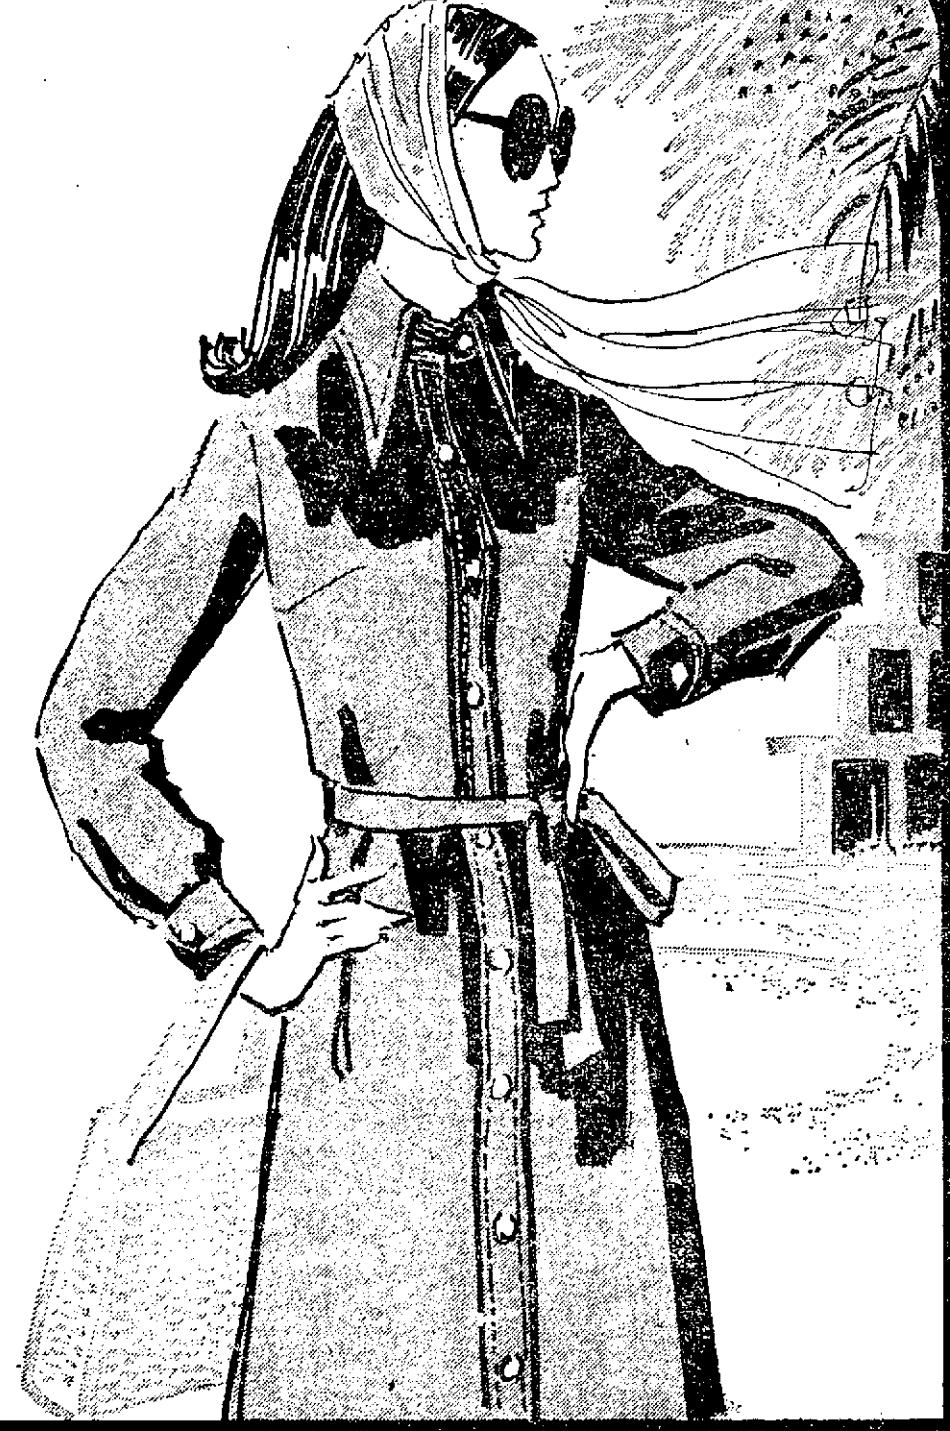

The Wool Bureau showed the new wonder wool in some lovely costumes. There was a two-piece dress straight from the '40s that had a graceful skirt, with a hip-length top, belted. Another good-looking dress in French blue — a wool jersey knit, of course. This one, buttoned with silver, was belted at the natural waistline. Something special was the floor-length gown in brown. It was long and slender with a fitted midriff, but perhaps the star of the show was a long dress, high collared and long-sleeved, that was patterned in an 18th Century print and belted in red velvet.

The Wool Bureau also showed body shirts which certainly are the answer to every woman's prayer if she wants to look smooth and well put-together. All of them had high necks and long sleeves and came in shades of black, brown, beige — and even red. It goes without saying that they all were of the new wonder wool jersey knit.

Coblenz is not an unfamiliar name in Lincoln. Coblenz may have his label in the bag you are carrying at this very moment. Howard Mescon is the designer-head of Coblenz, and he has done some terrific things for the new coming season. Some of the bags are basic — the type the tailored, conservative woman enjoys carrying, but the Coblenz collection had something for everyone. He had town styles, and there were new two-toned Chanel bags done in capeskin and jersey. There were beautiful leathers in the browns and blacks — some with leather handles, and others with a combination of gold link chains and leather. Centering the entire collection was a deep, tote bag, with top zipper closing. The bag featured velvet in the chevron design.

NEWSPAPER ARCHIVE®

a shopping tour

Thursday when it was time for shopping tour, we peered out the office window, and upon seeing five ten-speeds hitched to parking meters — several of which were taken up by shiny powerful motorcycles, we decided that today was the day to hop onto a pair of wheels and take to the road. Our "wheels" left something to be desired... one of us sat atop a ten-pound bicycle left over from childhood — complete with red, white, and blue tassels and a 1956 bicycle license — the other chose to set astride a "put-put" motorcycle that boasted almost as many cc's as a push lawn mower.

Anyway, when we finally got to our destinations — Jerryco Motors, Joshua Motor Sports, and Lincoln Lock and Cycle Company, we were in desperate need of air, a complete retreat, new hairdos, and a new ace of spades and clothespin for the bicycle!

AT LINCOLN LOCK AND CYCLE CO.

We found bicycles for everyone from five to 100 and discovered that the tricycle is "out" for children, and "in" for adults.

The small children have abandoned the tricycle favor of a small bicycle with training wheels that adapts to the growing child and his growing ability to control a "four-wheeler" — then a "two-wheeler."

Once our tot has adapted to the two-wheeler, he naturally feels like a "big wheel" and is ready for bigger, better, and faster things. This no doubt, has to be the sting ray model that we saw at Lincoln Lock and Cycle. The revved-up bike comes in lemon-lime or bright banana yellow and is appropriately called the banana. The banana features a 20-inch rear wheel and a 16-inch front wheel that even has a disc brake system like a car! — and, of course, there is the emergency brake, better known as the kickstand which came out long before car designers thought of the safety extra.

Now, for the adult tricycle we spoke of earlier. This version comes with three 26-inch wheels and an ample basket in back of the seat. Is it use? We were told that housewives in California and Arizona love to take a spin in their three-wheelers to the grocery store and on shopping trips — loading their purchases in the basket and cruising back home.

Another all-time favorite we found is the tandem bike which comes in two or five-speed models... and — brings to mind June weddings and strains of, "Daisy, Daisy, tell me your answer do." Naturally, the couple in this time take to a bicycle built for two after the wedding. These bicycles have the coast-a-brake system.

For the speedster enthusiasts, there is the three and five-speed women's bicycle or the five and ten-speed men's bike. These naturally come with the reversed, wrapped handlebars. Oddly enough, the girls are turning to men's bicycles — the art of bicycling and the bicycle seems to be unisexual!

AT JERRYCO MOTORS

Speaking of bicycles, we learned that Jerryco's has three foreign models — so we just had to wheel on over to see what they had to offer. The foreign bicycles are from France and Italy and are all 10-speeds, meaning they are great for cross-country traveling. You've all heard about what bicycle racing enthusiasts the French and Italians are — racing through towns and up and over and down mountains.

The French bikes are the Gitane and the Fregus — don't ask us how to pronounce them — and the Italian model is the Bottechia.

We learned that the 10-speeds are easier to pedal, are faster, and therefore less dangerous in traffic. One Lincoln youth can attest to the speed of the foreign 10-speeds. It seems he was ticketed recently for clocking in at 57 miles per hour in a 30 m.p.h. zone.

By the way, Jerryco also has motorcycles, including the Honda variety which is claimed to be the world's largest cycle seller. The Honda line ranges from the mini to the mighty — from the Mini Trail bikes to the 750 road bikes.

The Mini Trail 50's and the Trail 70's are larger than the mini bikes, but quite a bit smaller than the regular street cycles. Their seats are 24 inches above the ground and they come in the same colors as the larger Hondas — including pine green, candy red, candy blue, gold, and brown.

The Honda A11-Terrain motorcycles are strictly for off-road motoring. The 90-cc models are great for riding around on your favorite "field."

— sand, snow, over the mountains, and through the fields.

AT JOSHUA MOTOR SPORTS

The Yamaha Mini Enduro that we found at Joshua Motor Sports is the equivalent of the mini bike — but this one has 15 inch wheels. The Mini Enduro is a small duplicate of the larger Yamaha — with manual clutch, and all of the other extras.

Restricted to off-street use, the Mini Enduro is great for camping trips, trails, and yard use.

Soviet Art Exhibit

Bennet Martin Public Library is currently hosting an art exhibit of fifty pieces by Russian children ages four to 15. The Citizens Exchange Corps is sponsoring the exhibit in Lincoln.

Attendants Named

Naming the members of her bridal party this morning is Miss Nancy Luft, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emanuel Luft, who has chosen Saturday afternoon, June 19, as the date for her marriage to Lawrence S. Bird, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Bird.

Attending the bride as honor attendants will be Mrs. John Arnold and Miss Lynne Kaufman. The bridesmaids for the 1:30 o'clock ceremony which will be solemnized at St. Teresa's Church will be Miss Laura Alt of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, and Miss Debby Batten. Miss Linda Bird, sister of the future bridegroom, will serve as junior bridesmaid.

Serving Mr. Bird as best man will be John Arnold, and the groomsmen will include Kris Bridges, Wayne Talbot, Greg Luft, and John Brown. Seating the guests will be Dennis Alt of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, and John Maul.

The popular soon-to-be bride was presented a bedroom-bathroom shower on Tuesday evening, June 15, when Miss Debby Batten entertained a group of guests at her home.

Mrs. Reinhold Rebsendorf entertained at a dinner for the feminine members of the bridal party on Wednesday evening, June 16; and on Tuesday evening, June 8, Mrs. John Arnold was hostess in courtesy to Miss Luft when she entertained at a personal shower.

Don't feel overweight, ...puffed-up, bloated

→ —when body-water retention "swells" your waist, thighs, legs, arms.

It's natural that you, too, may have a tendency to retain water in your system — body-bloating fluid that builds up during the strenuous days of your pre-menstrual or menstrual period, or stress and overexertion. That's why it makes such good sense to try X-PEL, the amazing new "Water Pill." They are a gentle diuretic that helps you lose water-weight gain, and relieve body-bloating puffiness, tummy bloat, arms and legs enlargement, and water-retentive "swelling" due to water-weight gain. Guaranteed or money back. Ask your druggist for X-PEL "Water Pill" today because it must work for you, or you don't lose a penny.

Abby: news to all

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My pet gripe is Newspaper Hogs! I buy a newspaper on my way to work every morning and the minute I clock in, someone yells, "Give me the sports section," or "Can I see Dear Abby?"

We have half an hour for lunch, and it's the same at lunch. I have to ask for things I'd like to read in my own newspaper. No one else goes to the trouble or expense to buy one, but they all want to read mine. One party even had the nerve to ask me if she could take my paper home with her.

How can I handle this without making enemies?

BURNED UP

DEAR BURNED UP: No way. If you don't share your newspaper, you'll be the "hog." You can read only one part of it at a time, so you'd be ahead to grin and share it.

DEAR ABBY: I lost my husband in the war three years ago and I have a son whose father never saw him. I met a man I'll call Nick whose wife died recently and left him with two children under five years old. We fell in love and were seeing a lot of each other. We even spoke of marriage. Then I suddenly realized I had some serious competition.

Nick's sister-in-law, Amy (his wife's younger sister), filed for divorce and is trying to get Nick away from me. Her whole family is helping out by constantly inviting him to family parties and throwing Nick and Amy together. They would like to keep Nick in the family, as he is a very good provider. (Amy's husband is a no good bum.)

Now Nick is seeing more of Amy than me. I have turned down other dates so I can be available in case Nick calls. Should I just give up and let her have him? Or should I keep hoping? I can't run after a man the way she does.

CAN'T COMPETE

DEAR CAN'T: Your competition is holding all the aces. Old family ties, plus a small army of rooters working in her behalf. Accept other dates and don't pass up any dates to be available when Nick calls. Amy's aces can be trumped as long as there are "hearts" in the game.

DEAR ABBY: I am afraid I am a pushover for young people. Three young employees who work with me have borrowed money from me to meet personal emergencies. The smallest amount was $200. Not one of those who owes me has ever mentioned the debt. Nor made any effort to repay even a part of it. One debt is two years old. (By the way, I didn't ask for any interest on my money, nor did I ask anyone to sign a note.)

All three co-workers are very friendly to me, and none seems embarrassed about his nonpayments. I am far from wealthy and could use the cash myself as I shall be retiring soon. How shall I handle this?

OLD ENOUGH TO KNOW BETTER

DEAR OLD ENOUGH: Try this: "Look, my young friend, you have owed me $— for — months. I've said nothing hoping you would recognize the importance of keeping your credit good. You will hurt yourself in the future more than you hurt me now if you don't pay your honest debts. How about it?"

Bridge:

you play

B. Jay Becker

TEST YOUR PLAY

1. You are declarer with the West hand at Four Spades and North leads the ten of clubs. South takes dummy's king with the ace and continues with the queen, which you ruff. How would you play the hand?

♦ 7 6 5 4 3 N ♠ A Q 8 2
♦ J 8 4 W ♠ K 7
♦ A K J 6 E ♠ Q 10 9 8
♦ 2 S ♠ K 8 5

2. You are declarer with the West hand at Five Clubs. The bidding has been:

South West North East
Pass 1 ♠ 1 ♠ 2 ♣
2 ♠ 4 ♠ Pass 5 ♠

North leads the queen of spades on which South signals with the eight. How would you play the hand?

♦ A 7 5 N ♠ 9 5 3
♦ A J 6 2 W ♠ 10 8 6 2
♦ Q J 10 9 6 3 S ♠ Q 5
♦ A K 8 4

1. Play a low heart to the king and, if it wins, play the ace of spades next! If both opponents follow low on the spade, continue by ruffing a club and leading a trump towards the queen. This method of play succeeds if the trumps are 2-2 or if North has three to the king.

WHAT'S BEST TO TAKE FOR

Dull, Throbbing Pain Of Nervous Tension Headaches?

Anyone who suffers from tension headaches knows only too well how the throbbing pain can dull efficiency, play havoc with nerves and slow you down.

What's best to take? Clinical tests by doctors on over 500 patients who complained of tension headaches proved Anacin® relieves nervous tension headaches just as effectively as the expensive leading prescription. Yet Anacin needs no prescription and costs far less.

Here is other convincing evidence of the effectiveness of Anacin. A survey of over 1,600 specialists in internal medicine showed twice as many doctors said they would recommend the Anacin® formula to relieve pain over that of the other leading extra-strength tablet. Yes, twice as many doctors prefer Anacin's formula.

You can trust Anacin to relieve headache pain in minutes. Then its nervous tension and painful pressure on nerves go, too. Anacin lets you do a better job. Lets you function better.

Despite its great strength, Anacin is not habit-forming. You can take it without getting an upset stomach. It makes good sense to take fast-acting, extra-strong Anacin Tablets.

I Told You

The Communists' I-told-you-so attitude was expressed principally during the briefing sessions that followed the 117th plenary meeting. Among the delegates only Mrs. Nguyen Thi Binh, the Viet Cong representative, referred directly to the revelation of the documents in a statement supplementary to her prepared one.

Nguyen Than Le, the North Vietnamese spokesman, denounced the efforts to halt further publication and declared that "Mr. Nixon fears the truth as an owl fears daylight."

More philosophical, Le's southern Communist colleague, Duong Dinh Thao, said that if the report "helps Mr. Nixon to reflect on past errors and put an

delegate, declared "the root of the problem remains North Vietnam's aggression and subversion against its neighbors."

Bruce said the United States had moved to limit the conflict and to offer "reasonable proposals" for peace and declared: "It is your side that is responsible for the continuing conflict and for the deadlock at these talks."

Neither Stephen Ledogar, the American spokesman, nor Nguyen Trieu Dan, the spokesman for Saigon, would comment on a question as to whether revelation of the documents had hurt their respective negotiating positions.

Saigon — Outnumbered South Vietnamese marines helped by American jets and helicopters beat off a North Vietnamese attack Thursday on their lonely jungle outpost below the demilitarized zone, Saigon headquarters reported.

Field reports said about 400 enemy attacked 200 marines camped outside Fire Base Sarge before dawn.

The North Vietnamese opened fire with rifles and machine guns, rocket-grenades and flame throwers but were forced to withdraw when the marine defenders called in heavy artillery and air support, as well as ground reinforcements.

South Vietnamese headquarters in Saigon said 63 enemy troops were killed in the fight. It did not say whether this figure was arrived at through body count or air observation.

The breakdown of the number of enemy killed by air strikes and artillery was not given.

10 Viets Said Killed

Ten South Vietnamese were killed and seven were wounded, headquarters claimed.

Fire Base Sarge, an outpost abandoned by Americans after the U.S. 3rd Marine Division pulled out of Vietnam in 1969, now is one of two South Vietnamese bases in the westernmost region below the DMZ.

Action picked up slightly around Saigon, where the government has launched a major security campaign to protect a giant Armed Forces Day parade scheduled for Saturday.

The U.S. Command in Saigon reported 25 Americans were killed in combat last week — fourth lowest total this year.

Thirteen other Americans died in nonhostile incidents, such as accidents, the command said. The number of Americans wounded for the week ending last Saturday was listed as 199.

Total U.S. casualties in the war thus rose to 45,275 killed in action, 9,596 dead due to nonhostile causes and 300,123 wounded.

South Vietnamese casualties last week were 419 killed and 908 wounded, raising the war-long total to 128,760 killed and 279,629 wounded.

The allied commands claimed 1,883 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong were killed in the week, raising their over-all total to 751,885 killed.

Nixon Seeks Laws To 'Fight' Drug Use

Washington (UPI) — President Nixon, declaring that drug abuse is America's public enemy No. 1, asked Congress Thursday for some new laws and an extra $155 million "to fight and defeat this enemy."

One of the new laws would authorize the military to keep men in uniform as long as 21 days beyond their normal discharge date should they return from Vietnam or other overseas posts as addicts.

In a special message sent to Congress after Nixon conferred for two hours with the Democratic and Republican leaders, the President also said he was creating immediately a new special action Office of Drug Abuse Prevention within the White House. He wants Congress to authorize the office by statute and broaden its powers.

$371 Million Total

The extra $155 million for the 1972 fiscal year that begins July 1 would raise total federal outlays for antidrug activities to $371 million for the 12 months. The bulk of the extra money — $105 million — would be earmarked for the treatment and rehabilitation of addicts.

Nixon announced that the first head of his new drug abuse prevention office will be 37-year-old Dr. Joel H. Jaffe, who has been director of Illinois' state wide program to rehabilitate narcotics addicts.

Jaffe, in talking to reporters, indicated that he has no quarrel with Nixon's strong stand against use of marijuana — but left the impression his personnel attitude on the subject is quite flexible.

7-Day Detoxification

Nixon announced that starting Saturday urine specimens will be taken from all service personnel destined to return to the United States from South Vietnam. If drug traces are found, he said, the men and women will undergo a 7-day detoxification program in Vietnam and, if they are addicts, will — assuming Congress approves — be kept in uniform for up to 21 days beyond their normal date of discharge while going through a Pentagon-operated rehabilitation program.

Jaffe told reporters the service personnel so treated will be regarded as patients, not criminals.

Another feature of Nixon's antidrug package would add 325 people to the enforcement payroll of the Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs. In addition, the Treasury would get an extra $25.6 million for its efforts to halt the drug traffic, with $18 million going to bolster customs agents.

Nixon further asked Congress

Minh Opens Campaign In Saigon

Saigon (UPI) — Retired Gen. Duong Van "Big" Minh opened his presidential campaign Thursday with a charge that the Saigon government had "squared the blood" of its army in the impossible task of trying to win a military victory against the Communists.

"A conventional military victory is impossible," Minh said, because of the nature of communism and guerrilla warfare. He said communism was virtually a faith and could be destroyed only "by destroying the causes which have generated it."

Minh called for South Vietnam's "liberation from foreign control" and said he did not intend to become a pawn in "a complicated peace game" arranged by major world powers.

"The problems of Vietnam must be left to be solved by the Vietnamese and among the Vietnamese," he said.

Minh, 55, spoke at a combination news conference and cocktail party at his Saigon villa attended by about 300 persons, many of them known to be backing his candidacy.

Minh is expected to oppose President Nguyen Van Thieu and Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky in the Oct. 3 election. Thieu

TIMES REPORT DENIED

South Vietnamese Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky, arriving at a Saigon political rally Thursday, told newsmen following the rally that it was untrue that he bombed the wrong target in the first air strikes on North Vietnam on Feb. 8, 1965. Ky was answering reports in the New York Times which quoted a Pentagon study which said Ky dropped his bombs on an "unassigned target."

Minh strongly attacked Thieu's policies in a six-page statement.

"The government demands of the armed forces that they should win," he said. "It has squandered the blood of the soldiers in tragic adventures to generate the illusion of victory when every soldier with the experience of combat with the Communists knows that there can be no purely conventional military victory."

Apollo Test Ban

Cape Kennedy, Fla. (UPI) — Space agency officials slapped a one-week test ban on Apollo 15 to be certain that two nights of lightning strikes near the spacecraft did no serious damage.

Treasury May Make Tax Depreciation More Generous

(UPI) Washington Star
Washington — The Treasury plans to make new tax depreciation rules on business equipment more generous than was contemplated originally.

Officials said the tax-cutting rules probably will cover foreign branches of U.S. companies, which initially were to be excluded, as well as firms operating in this country.

Among those in line to benefit from the expected change, the sources said, are U.S. banks, oil companies and mining firms with branches abroad.

Their tax savings — and the revenue loss to the Treasury — may approach $100 million a year, according to tentative estimates. This would be on top of the $3 billion business tax reduction estimated for the original plan.

The Treasury intends to broaden the rules to include foreign branches despite legal challenges to the whole idea of cutting business taxes by liberalizing depreciation deductions.

President Nixon announced the plan in January to shorten the periods for writing off — deducting from taxable income the costs of machinery and equipment. He ordered new regulations permitting companies to shorten depreciation periods under the old rules by 20%.

By allowing bigger deductions in the early years of a machine's use, fast depreciation defers taxes in practice, unless a company stops buying machinery and equipment, the deferral becomes a permanent tax reduction.

All-State High School Program Under Way

Almost 200 Nebraska youths with interests in music, speech and drama have converged on the University of Nebraska-Lincoln campus for the two and one-half week All-State High School program that started Sunday.

The program, under the direction of Prof. Jack R. Snider of the NU School of Music, and Gary D. Cook, coordinator of the program and a member of the NU Teachers College staff, will include several musical concerts, debate competition and oral interpretive reading convocations. Drama students will not present play productions during the period.

The first musical program will be an outdoor promenade pops band concert at 7:30 p.m. Sunday in the Sheldon Gallery Sculpture Garden. Other programs will include a concert June 27, with both the orchestra and band, a band concert on June 28, a pops concert on June 29, and the final concert on July 1.

Students involved in the speech programs are receiving practical instruction in debate and oral interpretation. Those enrolled in debate are preparing arguments for practice debates on the topic: "Resolved, that the jury system in the U.S. should be significantly changed." This will be the topic for high school

Elderly Couple Gets Wild Ride In Auto Mishap

An elderly Lincoln couple was taken for a wild ride Wednesday morning after their car was in collision with a vehicle driven by Donald F. Perley, 20, of 1020 Mulder Dr., police said.

Police said a vehicle northbound on 17th driven by Adela I. Holck, 73, in which her husband Harald G., 84, both of 2226 So. 20th, was riding, was in collision with the Perley vehicle westbound on L.

After the collision, the Holck vehicle spun around in a complete circle in the intersection, narrowly missing the southwest, southeast and northeast corner curbs of the intersection before finally coming to a stop in the lot at the northwest corner of the intersection.

The Holck woman suffered a cut right arm, her husband cuts to both arms and a cut on the right knee. Perley was uninjured. All parties refused treatment at the scene of the accident.

Belker To Head Bayh Committee

Washington (AP) — Loren B. Belker of Lincoln will head a Nebraska committee working for the Democratic presidential nomination of Sen. Birch Bayh, it was announced Thursday.

New Farm Safety Regulations Are Discussed

Farm safety experts gathered in Lincoln Thursday for the National Institute for Farm Safety. A leader from Washington got a look at a new set of farm regulations through the eyes of a farm organization legislative leader from Washington. "Farm safety has become a big issue with lots of activity, legislative and otherwise, in the past three years," said Matt Triggs, assistant legislative director for the American Farm Bureau Federation.

"Farm truck regulation for safety has been in the law for 30 years but nobody ever told the farmers until the Department of Transportation (DOT) was organized and then we had some rewriting of farm safety regulations by all kinds of important officials with little to do," said Triggs.

Farmers Aroused

"I can't recall another issue that so aroused farmers as this one has on driving trucks and when the farmers pushed the issue they won. The DOT finally admitted they were wrong and capitulated," he added.

The next problem in the safety area will be far more complex, according to Triggs.

A new agency called the Occupational Safety and Health Administration under the direction of George Guenther, an assistant secretary of labor, has published a new set of safety standards in the federal register that promises to complicate the lives of farmers.

Many Affected

"The new regulations will affect farmers engaged in pulpwood logging, farmers who drive any farm equipment on a public road, a farmer who uses anhydrous ammonia and a farmer who operates a labor camp for seasonal help," he said.

The law requires each employer to furnish employment free from recognized hazards and to comply with applicable standards.

Triggs predicted that it would take many years of court decisions to really pinpoint the scope and character of these responsibilities.

Apparently no farmer is too small to attract the attention of the new regulations. "If you employ one man for one hour you come under the law," Triggs pointed out.

Neighboring Help

Past rulings by the Labor Department would indicate that farmers exchanging help would come under the law. "The farmer who owned the farm would be considered the employer and the neighbor who came over to help him with haying or branding would be considered the employee under the law," Triggs said.

Elton Berck, president of the Nebraska Farmers Union, told the assembled safety experts, "The regulations offer federal funds to states that want to operate their own safety regulations provided the state regulations are 'equal to' the federal regulations in a manner similar to the new meat inspection law."

"The Farmers Union will support state regulation in the area of farm safety," said Berck.

Local Control Eyed

Triggs agreed that the local people could do a better job of operating a safety program than the federal people and indicated that Farm Bureau would work for the same concept.

"So far about 33 states have indicated that they would like to operate a state program," he said.

Triggs predicted that agriculture would be ignored for a while due to a shortage of qualified administrative personnel. However, he warned, "The administrator will move toward the agriculture sector as soon as he can."

As the regulations stand now a farmer would be required to file a separate accident report for each accident on his farm and keep a monthly log of accidents and file an annual report made up from the monthly log.

Triggs added, "If farmers want to change this set of regulations they will have to act now before August 27 when they go into effect."

Pardons Board

Post Not Offered

Sigler 'As Yet'

State Penal Complex Director Maurice Sigler said Thursday that he hasn't yet been offered an appointment to the Federal Board of Pardons.

If offered the full-time, $36,000-a-year post, Sigler would have to resign his positions as penal complex warden and state deputy director of corrections.

"I have been talked to by people in the Justice Department regarding the appointment," Sigler said. "I have also talked to the governor about it."

"I have not been offered a job as yet, but if I am offered the appointment, I would have to give it serious consideration."

Schainost Memorial Shoot Feature Of Beatrice Gun Club Dedication

By RANDY EICKHOFF
Star Sports Writer

Beatrice -- The Roy L.

Schainost Memorial Shoot will highlight the dedication ceremonies of the Beatrice Gun Club's new clubhouse here Sunday — a fitting tribute for one of Nebraska's top shotgunners.

Schainost died at the age of 63 from a heart attack in 1969, ending a lifetime career of shooting and fishing.

"He was kind of quiet," Leigh Coffin, an old friend and fellow shooter of Schainost, recalls. "But he was always ready to help a fellow shooter out . . . even if that shooter ended up beating him."

"He had one of the largest potentials of all even though he never did very good in state meets. He always finished in the top group."

Schainost won the Nebraska all-bore skeet championship in 1939 and was an active trapshooter up to 1967.

He also served as a judge for field trials and encouraged such trials to promote a wider use of dogs in the fields.

Since his death, the Fairbury and Beatrice Gun Clubs have established annual memorial shoots in his honor.

Sunday's shooting will get underway at 8 a.m. with the 16-yard 100 target event followed by special teams which include the high average men's teams from Kansas and Nebraska, high average women's teams from Kansas and Nebraska, sheriffs and police officers teams, news media and charter members of the Beatrice Gun Club.

The official dedication ceremonies will include trophy presentations and ribbon cutting by the Schainost by Sen. Roman L. Hruska and handicap.

Selling Pressure Hits Stock Prices

New York (UPI) — Stock market prices moved within a narrow range until near the close Thursday when they gave way to some selling pressure.

Trading was slow.

"One thing the stock market hates is indecision," said Robert Stovall, analyst for Reynolds & Co.

"The interest rate confusion is the No. 1 confusion and will be until other major banks raise their prime rate to 5 1/2 or 6 per cent, or unless the ones that did mark them down again," Reynolds said.

"The public is waiting for the market to become a better value, and many institutions have become hopeful bears — hoping the market dips below 900 so they can buy stocks they missed on the way up.

The Dow Jones average of 39 industrials closed down 2.34 at 906.25.

Big Board volume of 13.99 million shares compared with Wednesday's turnover of 14.31 million shares, while volume on the American Stock Exchange of 3.35 million shares was up from Wednesday's level of 3.29 million shares.

The New York Stock Exchange index of more than 1,300 common stocks dropped .02 to 55.46, and the Amex price-change index fell .04 to 25.66.

Of the 1,645 Big Board issues traded, declines edged out advances 664 to 644. On the Amex, declines led advances 516 to 344 among 1,120 issues traded.

Standard & Poor's stock index closed down .02 at 103.50.

The Associated Press 60-stock average closed up .3 at 327. Industrials were up .6, and railroads were up .9.

The most actively traded Big Board stock was Pennoil United, down 1 1/2 to 117 1/2, shares including a block of 170,400 shares at 31 1/2.

Xerox, up 2 1/2 to 109 1/2, 166,000 shares, was the top second-most-active issue.

General Dynamics, Systems, down 3 1/4 to 145,000 shares.

A block of 151,000 shares of Ohio Edison was traded at 22 1/2 down 1 1/2.

On the Amex, 100 such blocks were traded.

DuPont, which said Wednesday that second-quarter earnings would lag behind earnings for the same period last year, closed up 1% at 14 1/2.

Corporate bonds were mixed. U.S. governments were higher.

Froehlke Said Involved In Controversial Deal

Chicago (UPI) — President Nixon's nominee for secretary of the Army continued his participation in a controversial insurance company reorganization after he became assistant secretary of defense, an insurance publication said Thursday.

The nominee is Robert F. Froehlke, 48, who helped manage eight congressional campaigns for Secretary of Defense Melvin Laird.

Business Insurance said in a copyright story in its June 21 issue that while Froehlke resigned as vice president and director with the Sentry Insurance Group of Stevens Point, Wis., Feb. 20, 1969, he participated in matters relating to the reorganization, including buying $200,000 of stock with money borrowed from the Chase Manhattan Bank.

Plan Killed

This was after he had taken the Defense Department post, Business Insurance said.

The reorganization plan was killed in April 1970 by the Wisconsin Insurance Department which declared, the magazine said, that it did not "properly protect the interests of policyholders" by giving control of a mutual company to management insiders.

Business Insurance added that a December 1969 report to the Senate antitrust and monopoly subcommittee stated:

—On June 20, 1969, Froehlke received a memo from Sentry's general counsel warning him and 32 other participants in the reorganization plan of "reverses in their dealings with the Securities and Exchange Commission."

—Minutes of the mutual company's directorate show Froehlke attended the Aug. 7, 1969, meeting and that the reorganization plan was discussed.

—The Senate subcommittee report indicated Froehlke continued his $200,000 participation in the plan. Chase Manhattan officials told the subcommittee they turned over their "entire file" on the proposed loan but there is no record that Froehlke withdrew from the arrangement under which he and his associates would have gained a $10 million profit.

Lockheed Boss Likens Competitor To Vulture

Burbank, Calif. (UPI) — The chairman of Lockheed Aircraft Corp. described a competitor Thursday as a "bird of prey" for its statement that it would consider taking over Lockheed if the aerospace giant goes bankrupt.

Daniel Haughton also defended Lockheed's L1011 TriStar jet program as sound if Congress approves a $250 million loan guarantee.

Willard F. Rockwell Jr., chairman of North American Rockwell Corp., said Wednesday if Lockheed were forced into receivership because of its financial picture, North American would consider assuming control of the company.

Rockwell made the comments during an interview with a Los Angeles Times reporter in Pittsburgh, Pa. North American spokesmen say the company has not taken a position on Lockheed's future.

The first step North American would take, Rockwell said, would be to junk the TriStar project which he described as "just plain murder."

Rockwell said "the only way Lockheed could conceivably break even on the L1011 project is by getting the entire market for the airbus." The firm is competing with McDonnell Douglas' DC10 and the European A300 trijets.

"Mr. Rockwell's readiness to make such a public statement concerning Lockheed at this time," Haughton said, "when the very future of the corporation hangs in the balance, raises questions as to his motives."

"The tenor of his comments suggests that rather than 'standing right in the front row,' as he indicated, to acquire Lockheed's defense business, he is more likely to be perched on a limb or circling overhead in the traditional pose of a bird of prey."

Haughton said Rockwell is "not to our knowledge a commercial aircraft specialist." He said, "Those who have more detailed and current information — such as our lending banks and airline customers — have made it clear on the record that they consider the L1011 to be a strong program if the financing problems can be solved."

"We do not wonder at Mr. Rockwell's eagerness to pick up the pieces after a Lockheed bankruptcy," Haughton said. "We have many sound defense programs that will continue over a number of years and the facilities and technical and management experience to compete for future defense business."

How to play this little game that will give you a message every day in a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is six or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you. WHAT EARTHLY SENSE DID IT MAKE FOR MR. STOOGLER TO HAVE A CANARY AS A DOG? WELL, HE'D TAKE THE BEAST OUT TO HUNT—MOT OF THE TIME THEY SEE BUT NOTHIN'...

MOST DOGS CAN'T WHISTLE NOTE ONE... BUT THE CANARY WOULD FILL IN THE HOURS BY WHISTLIN' AND CHIRPIN' ALL OF SHAKESPEARE'S NINE SYMPHONIES. A LITTLE OFF KEY PERHAPS, BUT HE'D TAP DANCE THE PARTS HE FORGOT AND... HUH?

I SAID SHAKESPEARE DID NOT WRITE ANY COUNT THEM ANY SYMPHONIES. PROBABLY ACCOUNTS FOR THE POOR BLUE-EYED BIRD BEIN' OFF KEY.
